55 DIE AS PLAGUE SETS HIGH FIGURE; MORE BEDS ASKED

Only 200 Hospital Places Still Unoccupied, Dr. Emerson Reports.

SAYS BROOKLYN HAS REACHED CLIMAX

Appeal for Braces for Discharged Children Made—Day Brings 159 More Cases.

With fifty-five deaths marking a new record in the progress of the infantile paralysis epidemic yesterday, Dr. Haven Emerson, Health Commissioner, called upon the hospitals of the five boroughs to furnish more beds for sufferers. Of the 2,458 beds available at the outbreak of the scourge fewer than 200 were unoccupied at noon yesterday. Most of these were put in service in the afternoon.

Dr. Emerson said the hospitals responded quickly to his appeal, and by to-night he expects to have 1,400 additional beds. Five hundred of these will be in the five new pavilions of the Riverside Hospital, on North Brother's Island, which have been remodelled and equipped to receive paralysis patients. Another hundred have been prepared in the old Orthopedic Hospital.

Thirty-three Die in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn yesterday had 33 deaths, Manhattan 12 and Queens 10. One hundred and fifty-nine new cases were reported, an increase of twenty-seven over Monday, and only four lower than the high water mark of 163. Of these 82 were in Brooklyn, 42 in Manhattan, 17 in Queens, 9 in Richmond and 8 in The Bronx. The total cases now number 4,123. Officials of the Health Department expect that the reported cases will reach 10,000 before the outbreak is checked.

"Even with large numbers of cases being reported each day," said Dr. Emerson, "I do not believe we will need any beds beyond the 1,400 which we expect to have available by to-night. Within a short time the hospitals will begin discharging children who have stayed for the quarantine period of eight weeks. The situation is favorable, and the epidemic is especially well under control in Queens, Richmond and The Bronx. Brooklyn appears to have reached the climax. Manhattan

Appeal for Braces Made.

Dr. Emerson emphasized the fact that it was still too early to form any definite opinion of the results of the treatment of children with adrenalin and serum taken from the blood of recovered patients. Not until several hundred have been treated and the results of each case will be definitely known whether the serum is a cure.

The Health Department yesterday sent out an appeal to the people of New York for $15,000 with which to purchase braces and orthopedic appliances for the hundreds of children who will come from the hospitals permanently paralyzed. The funds which have been sent to the department for this purpose now total $6,539, including $500 given by Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim and $5,000 sent to Dr. Emerson yesterday by Louis J. Horowitz, of the Thompson-Street Construction Company, for the use of the orthopedic dispensary of Mount Sinai Hospital.

"The time is approaching when the most important consideration will be the after care of the children," said Dr. Emerson. "We appeal to the people of New York for money for braces, frames and mechanical supports, which must be provided, fitted and applied to a large number of the patients prior to their discharge. Of the 1,600 cases now in the public hospitals, at least 400 must have them before they can be discharged."

Children Raise Funds.

Many charitable and civic organizations have undertaken to raise money for appliances. Children in Bernardville, N. J., have started the Children's Fund for Victims of Infantile Paralysis, and the money raised will be divided among the hospitals in New York and New Jersey. The fund is under the direction of a children's committee consisting of May Hoppin, Esther Stevens, Betty Graham, Caroline Talmage, Alice Post, Bill Hoppin, Teddy Hoppin, Whitney Cromwell and Robert Stevens. An advisory board to aid the children in their work also has been formed, consisting of the Rev. Thomas Conover, Mrs. E. T. H. Talmage, Mrs. Seymour Cromwell, Mrs. Robert P. Graham, Mrs. A. Wright Post, Mrs. Robert Stevens and Mrs. W. Hoppin, Jr.

Slight increases in the number of cases and deaths in New York State outside of the city and in surrounding states were shown in yesterday's reports. In New Jersey ninety-one new cases were reported. Twenty additional cases were reported to the State Board of Health in Albany. Most of them are on Long Island. In Connecticut Dr. John T. Black, secretary of the State Board of Health, requested the Federal authorities to send an expert to aid the children in their work also has been formed, consisting of the Rev. Thomas Conover, Mrs. E. T. H. Talmage, Mrs. Seymour Cromwell, Mrs. Robert P. Graham, Mrs. A. Wright Post, Mrs. Robert Stevens and Mrs. W. Hoppin, Jr.

Police to Get Circulars.

The Health Department yesterday sent to the Police Department 12,000 circulars giving information about infantile paralysis. These will be distributed among the policemen, and contain the following rules for parents:

Keep your house or apartment absolutely clean. Sweep floors only after they have been sprinkled with disinfectant. Do not allow your children to play in the streets or on the sidewalks. Do not allow your children to play in the parks and playgrounds if one of them is sick. Do not allow your children to be kissed. Do not allow your children to go to the parks and playgrounds if one of them is sick. Do not allow your children to be kissed. SIXTH POLICEMAN IN GRAFT DRAGNET

Brooklyn Special Charged with Helping in Vice Collection Raids.

TWO WOMEN SAY HE EXTORTED MONEY

One Was Beaten by Plainclothes Men—Girl Sixteen Years Old Accuses Detective.

Another policeman was indicted yesterday for grafting, Joseph Horn, member of "Special Squad No. 1," of Brooklyn, detailed to clean up the Tenderloin of that borough, was the man. He is charged with extortion and bribery. He is the sixth man placed under formal charges through the investigation of District Attorney Swann.

At least two more indictments against Horn are being sought, and three other detectives whose names have not figured in the investigation will probably be indicted before the end of the week, according to Assistant District Attorney Smith, who is in charge of the grand jury investigation.

Horn, who was formerly attached to the Third Inspection District, in company with other members of the Brooklyn squad was accustomed to visit the Manhattan district at night, Mr. Smith says. After parading through the streets in which they were known they would scatter, it is alleged, and make individual assaults on the doorbells in streets between West Twenty-first and West Twenty-fourth, lying between Seventh and Eighth avenues. In this way they made their bi-weekly collections, according to the charges.

Women Accuse Horn.

Horn is specifically charged with having accepted a bribe of $15 from Florence Ross, of East Seventeenth Street, near Third Avenue, in August, 1915. The woman's testimony is corroborated by Sadie Rothenberg, also of East Seventeenth Street, and Benjamin Blum, of East Thirty-fifth Street, 1119 Thirty-second Street, 819 Fortieth Street, 1265 Fortieth Street and 447 Seventy-second Street.

Deny Concealing Firms' Assets.

Abraham Hyman, Louis Gelberg and Nathan Komory, indicted by the Federal Grand Jury for conspiring to defraud the bankrupt Star Rubber and Dress companies, of 12 West Seventeenth Street, pleaded not guilty yesterday in Federal Court and were released on bail. Liabilities of the two concerns aggregated $24,000, and the assets said to have been concealed were $15,000.

Attorney's office to testify against Detectives Enright and Foley.

Sensational charges, Mr. Smith declares, will be brought against one detective of the Third Inspection District, and another indictment, and two others. They involve the confessions of a sixteen-year-old girl, who says she was taken into the detective's household as a servant in 1915. She attacked Hadden, proprietor of the hotel, had an investigation made, and Duffy's conviction was set aside and a new trial was granted. On the testimony of the sixteen-year-old girl, the detective was acquitted. Later, Hadden complained to the police that his life had been threatened.

The July graft jury, which has been conducting a John Doe investigation into the police grafting charges, will be continued until September, as it will be impossible to prepare the evidence in all the cases that are to be brought against plainclothesmen who have been implicated in the graft probe.

Hotel Man Threatened.

As a result of one of these raids Edward Duffy, clerk of a hotel in West Fourth Street, was arrested and convicted in Special Sessions. Later, Arthur Hadden, proprietor of the hotel, had an investigation made, and Duffy's conviction was set aside and a new trial was granted. On the testimony of the sixteen-year-old girl, the detective was acquitted. Later, Hadden complained to the police that his life had been threatened.
